PRODUCTS IN GENERAL

While botanical, plant-based and of natural origin, our products contain active ingredients which may cause a reaction in sensitive skins. As with all skin care products with active ingredients, it is always wise to patch test a small amount. If any adverse reaction occurs cease use. See the instructions below on how to perform a patch test.

All products are for external use only and for non-sensitive skin. Avoid getting the product into eyes or mouth. If contact occurs rinse thoroughly several times with clean water. Do not use on broken or irritated skin. Our products are highly concentrated, so it is important to try one product at a time instead of all at once. Please follow directions for each product carefully and read the ingredients list for items you may be allergic to prior to application of any kind.
